SEMINAR

8 & 9 May 2013

Adelaide Convention Centre
Adelaide, SA

The keys to successful leisure programming

Let's not get complicated but keep programming simple and straightforward as the results will always be better. Gabrielle will explore the fundamental principles of programming – assessment, setting goals, planning and implementing activities and evaluation. When these principles are 'right' successful outcomes are ensured.

Speaker: Dr Gabrielle Koop, Author and co-owner B&S Books

Leisure and community

Daniella will explore the exciting role that leisure and activity professionals can play in developing a 'sense of community' in residential settings. This session also covers some creative ideas for blurring the line between residential homes and the wider community, and reducing the stigma associated with ageing, dementia and residential living.

Speaker: Daniella Greenwood, Dementia Strategy Manager, Arcare

Developing an activity portfolio for men's activities, activities for people with dementia and activities for clients in high care

There are many challenges that face the leisure and lifestyle professional. For many programming for men, providing activities for high care clients and the provision of activities for clients with dementia presents the most challenges.

This double session will examine the characteristics of these three groups (men, high care client's and client's with dementia) and provide participants with the opportunity to develop a portfolio of activities suitable to clients in these areas. A highly interactive and informative session.

Speakers: Dr Gabrielle Koop, Author and co-owner B&S Books & Jacqueline Quirke, Director / Redleaf Training and Consultancy & Co-owner B&S Books

This Conference is recognised by Diversional Therapy Australia. Eligible participants will earn 10 DTA Professional Development Points for attendance.

Besides Bingo

During this seminar session Laretta will focus on stimulating programs for clients who attend day centres or are in low care aged facilities. The session will include how to plan quality programs at an adult day care centre/ low care service and provide an opportunity to brainstorm practical ideas that provide enjoyment and encourage engagement.

Speaker: Laretta Kaldor, Diversional Therapist, Owner / Laretta Kaldor Resources

Sometimes a tablet is better than a pill

Marc will introduce the use of tablet technology providing the theory behind its use and practical information on how to use tablet technology in aged care. The use of TABLET intervention will be explored from a number of perspectives including its cost effectiveness, portability, intelligence and user friendly nature.

Speaker: Marc Lea, Leisure & lifestyle Coordinator / Hadden Place, Wesley Mission Brisbane

Leisure Education – A tool for assessment and review of services

Looking for a new way of approaching assessment and service review? This practical session will engage participants in trialling a leisure education tool that can be used for identifying leisure attitudes, awareness, skill development and leisure satisfaction to assist in the assessment and review of leisure and lifestyle services.

Speaker: Gaynor Jackson, Dip Health Science (Leisure & Health), Cert IV TAA, EN, Life Member DTA

Motivating clients: How to create an environment of energy

Let's not get complicated but keep programming simple and straightforward as the results will always be better. Gabrielle will explore the fundamental principles of programming – assessment, setting goals, planning and implementing activities and evaluation. When these principles are 'right' successful outcomes are ensured.

Speaker: Jacqueline Quirke, Director / Redleaf Training and Consultancy & Co-owner B&S Books
